ADF International and Handong International Law School are pleased to offer an exceptional training programme that blends high-caliber legal instruction with a firm commitment to Christian principles. The training is designed for outstanding law students and young lawyers from across Asia who are on a path to future leadership in law, government or public policy.

This unique opportunity will enable and inspire participants to become part of an expanding global movement to transform law and culture.

Participants will engage with distinguished faculty and guest speakers through stimulating panel discussions and interactive sessions. Daily worship and devotions will reinforce the importance of core beliefs in the practice of law.
